THE POW - WOW

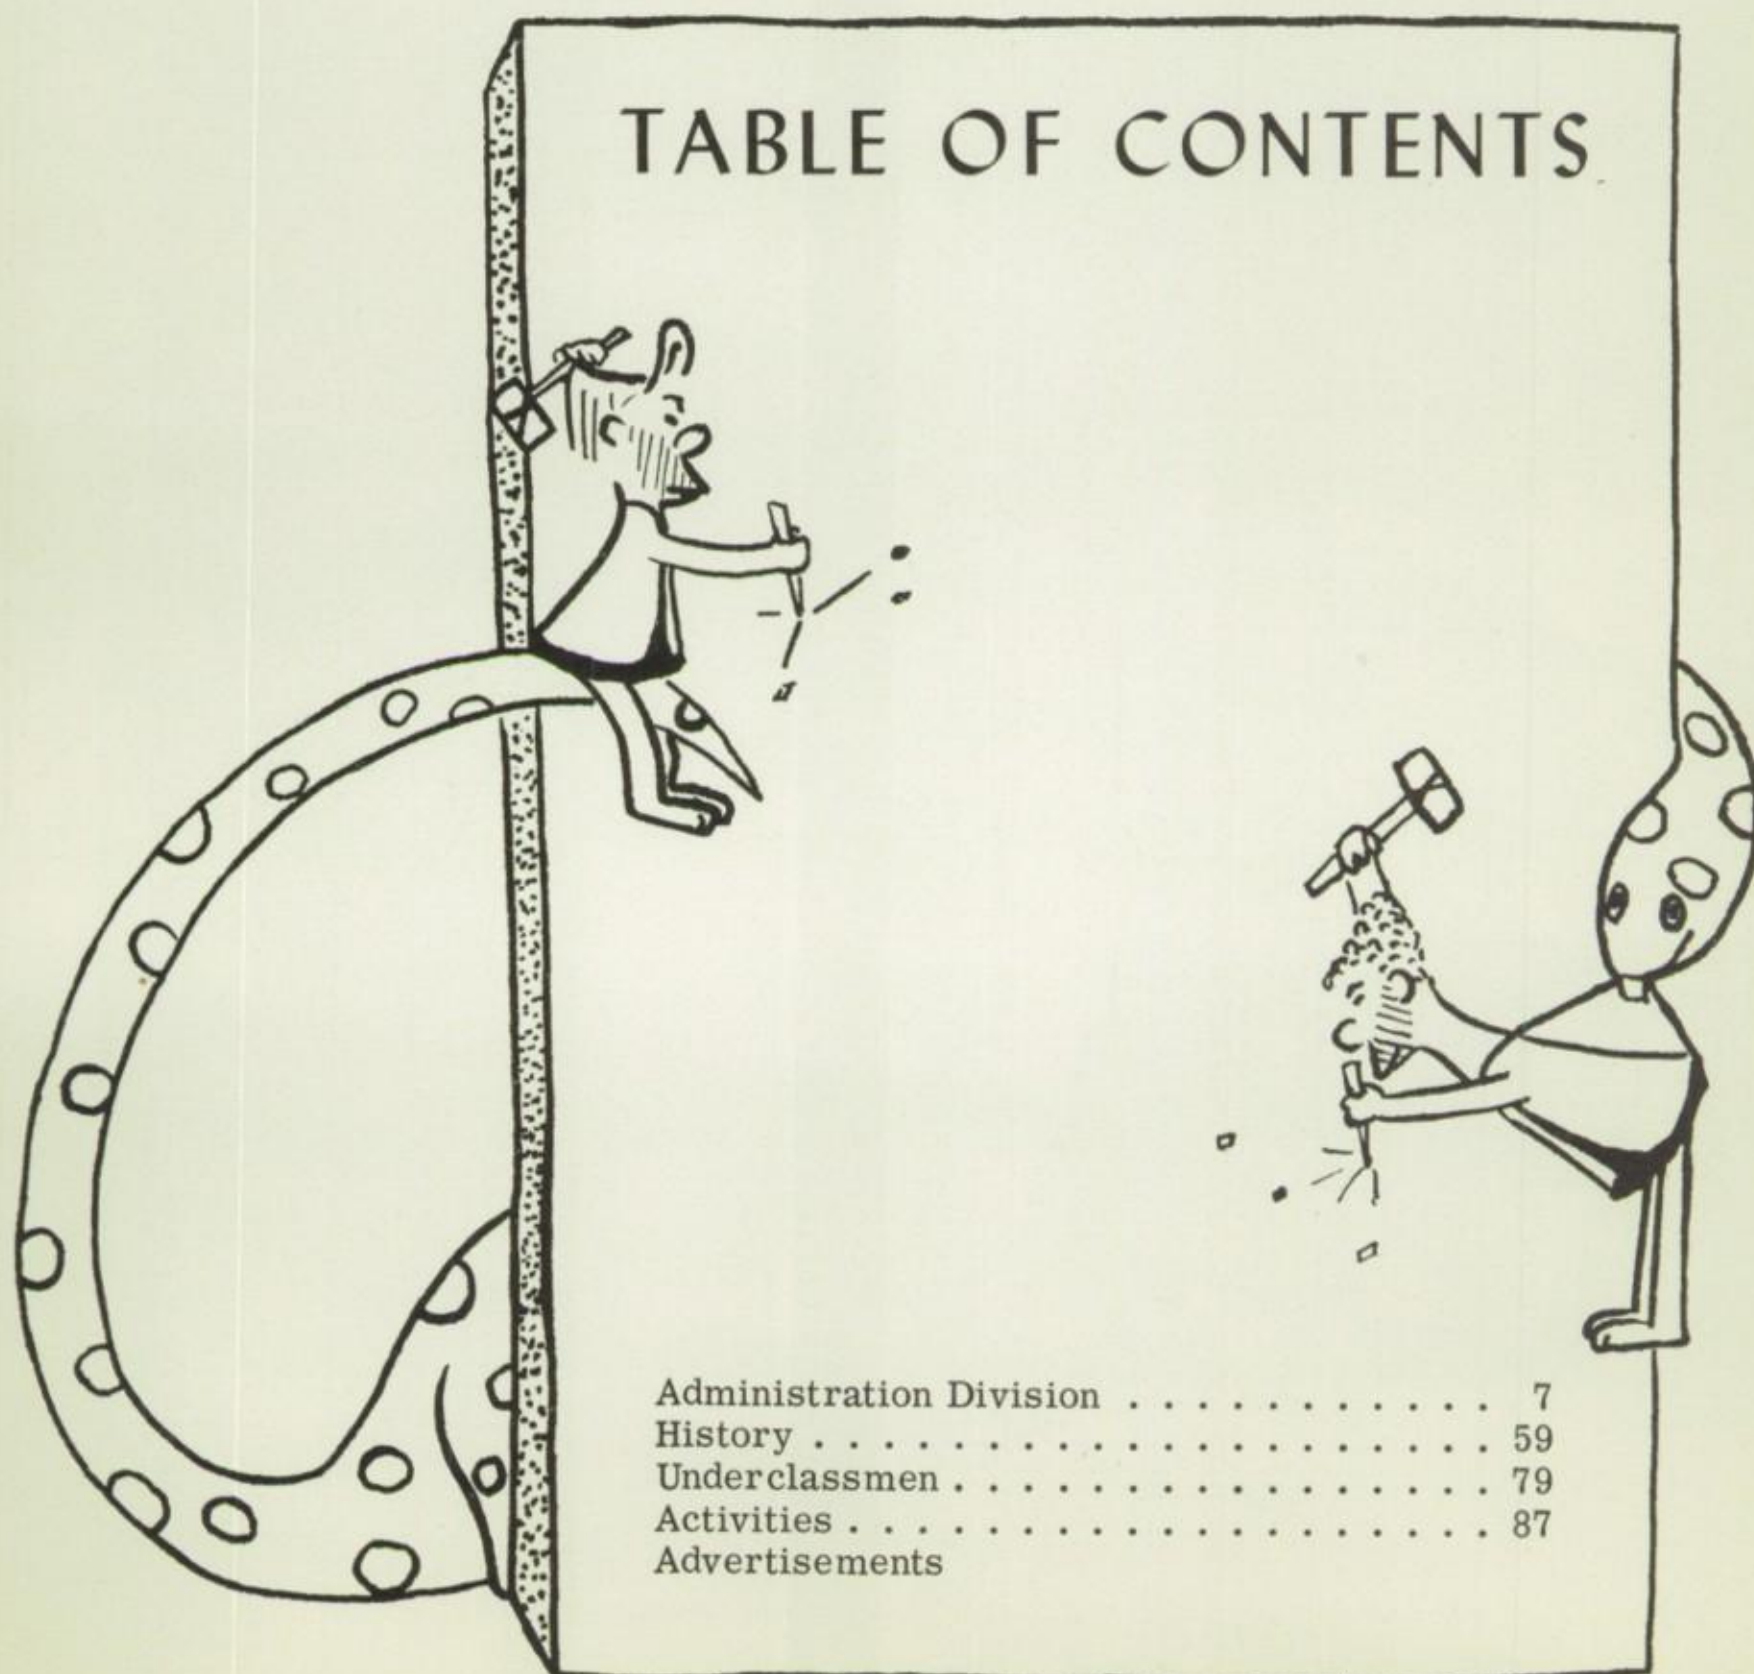

DEDICATION

We the class of 1961 are grateful to one who has contributed 44 years of devoted service to the students of Amesbury High School. During this time he has served faithfully as Head of the Practical Arts Department, mechanical drawing instructor, and friend and counselor to his pupils. In appreciation we dedicate this our edition of the Pow-wow to Mr. Arthur C. Wood.

FOREWORD

We the Class of 1961 present this edition of the Pow-Wow for all those who read and remember.

ADMINISTRATION

Congratulations to the members of the Class of 1961 on the occasion of their graduation from Amesbury High School. The change that will occur in your lives as a result of graduation may not become apparent until you find it necessary consciously to call upon previous experience - which includes formal learning - in order to make the right decisions affecting your futures. Then may you be made more aware than ever before of the meaning of the last twelve years, and may this serve as another commencement in the life cycle of the individual striving for the fulfillment of worthy aspiration.

My very best wishes to everyone.

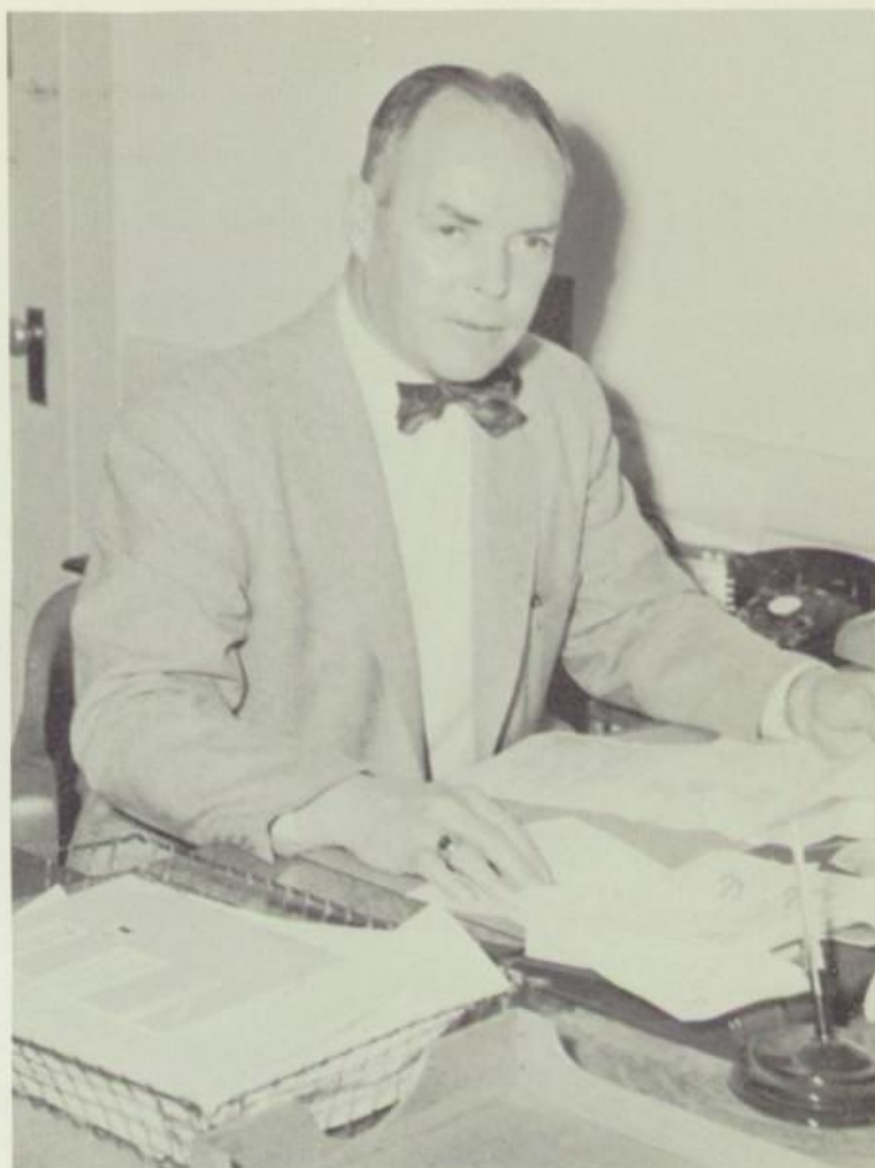

George R. Quinn
Superintendent of Schools

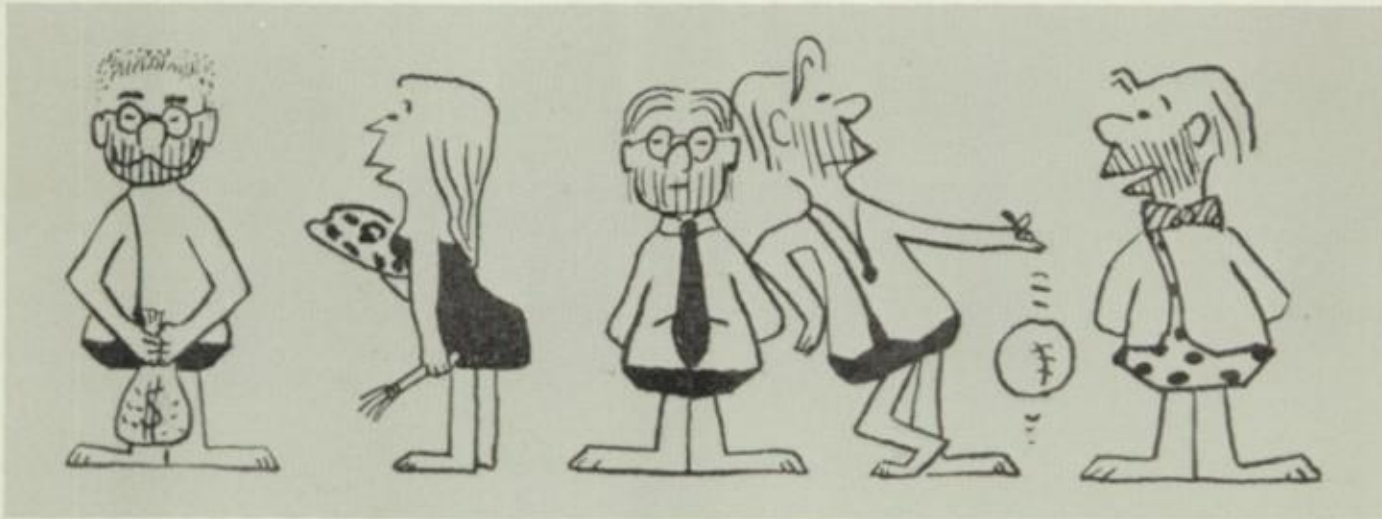

Seniors, you have now successfully completed one phase of your life and are now ready to turn to another.

Your success or failure will depend upon one person - you. In your High School training, you have been well prepared. In all your endeavors, do your best, and do what you know to be right - no one can ask for more.

CLASS PROPHECY

Since history has seemed to repeat itself over the ages, it is entirely within the realm of possibility that we, the class of 1961, in 20 years, may find ourselves in an era much like that of the Stone Age. With our 20th century knowledge but with ancient conditions and surroundings we could find things much like the following:

Walking down the main street of Cave Town U.S.A., we come to a small restaurant owned by Betty Stevens, specializing in fancy ice cream dishes created by Edward Syvinski. We go in to grab a bite to eat, and while there we learn, through the grapevine, of the fate of many of our former classmates. It seems that Michael Barbick has a retreat for wayward rabbits. Lester Sinton and Bill Stromquist have finally built a still. Corinne "Orville" April and George "Wilbur" April are flying gliders for the new C.A.P. Richard Bailey and Richard Millett are making hot-rod wagons. Dottie Tirone is still looking for a smile. Eileen Cahill is manufacturing laughs. Dave Brown is still perfecting his atom smasher. Dave Antell is raising a harem. And, much to our astonishment, Sandra Hewett is just finishing a 20 year jail sentence for a discrepancy in the class dues.

After being entertained by the Kingstone Quartet, composed of Grace Feeley, Glenda White, Suzanne Savignac and Judy Pearson, we decide to run along as we had many more stops to make.

As we come out of Betty's humble establishment we see, across the street a little clothes shop which closer inspection reveals to be "La Petite" owned and run by Jeanne Dube. As we talk to Jeanne, we learn that her chief fashion designer is Pam Grodzicki and her models are Claire Lemaire and Linda Page. From Jeanne, we also hear of many more former friends. The latest development is that Thelma Brown is making hope chests. Norman Daneau has finally given Jean White a ring by which she leads him around. Christine Stinson is working on her new invention, an hour glass with 24 nighttime hours. Bobby Michaud, Donna Drew, Doc Holliday and Judy Wheeler have finally gotten their wagon out of the mud. To celebrate, Judy Wheeler's going to have a holiday. Word has it that Shirley Barrett Thomson lets Charlie be chief in the household-chief cook and bottle washer. Alice LePelley is raising dinosaurs--Carolyn Blood, Janet Perkins, Karen Haley and Theresa Boucher are her best jockeys.

We decide that we've spent enough time here and move on down the street where we see the town's leading newspaper--The Sunshine Slate--run by none other than Robert Carrier. We decide to go in, and as we enter we find, one of the paper's copy boys weeping after receiving a rather severe lecture from Mr. Carrier. This could only be Harvard graduate, Charles Claeys, who has been trying to eke out a meager living for his wife Linda and himself. Over in the corner we see Mr. Carrier's typist, Eleanor Grodzicki. As we talk to these two we discover that Richard Dollen is now the Army's chief reveille player. Arlene Cyr is putting out sprouts by mass production. Betty Stuart, Lucille Roy and Janet Sullivan are mining diamonds in Everett Libby's diamond mine.

Sharon Pratt and Anne Bartley are conducting promptness classes. Mary Lou Antell is having a party. Henry Vedrani and Donald Steele are modeling leopard skin outfits. They are in business with Ricky Mellon who is selling clubs. Alfred Thompson is chiseling away on his book "1001 Ways to Chew Gum Nonchalantly."

As we leave the newspaper office and bid farewell to our friends, we notice that it's getting late and we hurry along to our next stop. As we walk along we spy two beggars sitting in the street. A closer look proves these to be Norman Marble and Alan Mason. We stop to talk with them for a few minutes and in talking, we learn about many more old friends. Joyce Larnard, Elizabeth Waterman and Kay Worthen are caring for Russel Pike who is suffering from slingshot wounds. Betty Slaughter is taking up gambling again--this time at marbles. David Goldthwaite is chief of the community fuzz, and his top sergeants are David Watkins and John Waterman and his favorite matron is Ruth Morrill. Clifton Hatch and Paul Hudon are coaching the area's only all girl football team, "The Cave Town Cowards." We hear that the work-horses of the forward line are Judy Reddy, Carol Hume, Donna Perkins and Debbie O'Connell, center.

We soon discover that we are causing a slight traffic jam as the path becomes clogged with wagons, so we again start on our way and soon arrive at the local beauty salon where we find June Hetrick, Corinne Mears, Judy Garand, and Claire Carrier giving cave cuts to all the local beauties. We decide that this is the best place to gather gossip and that's what we want, so we go in to chat for a while. The first astonishing thing we learn is that Phyllis Jutras and Francis Jones are in jail. Irene Lahait and Richard Mansourian are heading a physical fitness league. Kathy Johnson is decorating cave interiors. Jim Rand is working on a conservation method to prevent cave floor erosion. Ferolyn Justin is working at J.J. Blueberry's. Jane Stone is managing Stonybrook Motel where Kay Webb and Sandra Wheeler are working as chambermaids. Robert Morse is running a lodge in the Maine woods for hunters. Dianne Chesley and Alice LePelley are out on a roundup. Gail Corbin's giving primp lessons. Frances Benoit is out hunting. Raymond Burbank is out scouting around. John O'Brien is a marriage counsellor. His latest clients are Randy and Mary Larnard Shore who are having problems after their 17th child.

It is beginning to get a little stuffy in here, so we decide to move on and head for the outskirts of the village. As we approach the country, we pass Kathy Twombly and Jackie Price chatting over the clothesline. We wave and continue on our way. Soon we come upon Joe Boutin and Toby Harris fishing. From them we learn that Linda Urquhart is principal of the local school where Denis Merchant is teaching P.O.D. and George Chauncy is teaching Algebra II. We also hear that Denny Melia has finally found the perfect job--guidance director. Roger Graves and Ralph Lowd are starting some sort of school. They are calling it M.I.T., Maybe an Institute of Technology. Tony Gaznick is restoring the old Salisbury Beach Reservation which is under the new ownership of Brenda Curtis. Bill Shore is racing his boat around some tiny islands. Jackie and Dianne Labbe McLaughlin are baby sitting for Donna Gilbert Proulex.

Marilyn Shaw and Prudy Myrick are raising mice. Eva Morin and Joan Girroir are beachcombing. Judy Smith is recruiting for her favorite branch of the service--Navy. Sandra Bailey is the proud owner of the Beetle Bailey Factory. What does she raise? Beetles of course! Slugger DesRoches is madly paddling his dugout to Germany; Cindy Rice is madly sailing her raft to America. Bg Morse is leader of Brownie Troop 12.

We see that it is getting late and we bid farewell to Joe and Toby and move on. After we walk along for a few minutes we pass Kathy Eaton and Pam Fowler tugging at their mule, on top of which is perched David Taylor, whip in hand. We see Grace Kelley and Eileen Kinch milking cowbirds. As we hike along back toward town, we see a figure working in the fields but we can't tell who it is because of approaching dusk. As we get closer we recognize the peasant and see that Brenda Brown is still on the farm! She tells us that Albert Sears, David Tassinari and Maurice Sevigny have started the "Al-Tazz-Moe" Supermarket and that Janice Freeman is their head check-out girl.

Darkness soon overtakes us and we are glad that we have learned the fate of all our friends before nightfall. We head toward home with a feeling of satisfaction and joy that our friends are all safe and sound after 20 long years.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the Seniors of 1961, being of sound minds, sound bodies, and extremely sound voices, do herewith make our last will and testament and declare that this is the last time we will ever give anything away.

To the freshmen we leave our strength and determination and also this little reminder: It's really not as bad as you may think, you'll make it-we did!

To the sophomores we leave our good name and ideal record.

To the juniors we leave our seats.

David Tassinari, Clifton Hatch, and Albert Sears leave their republican buttons to Mr. Melia and Mr. Wallace in hopes that they will find some appropriate use for them.

Bill Shore leaves his training habits to Joe Romonoski and Donnie Magowen.

Charlie Claeys leaves the Mingo Road to all interested parties.

Slugger DesRoches leaves his church key to anyone who can handle it.

Doc Holliday leaves his job at Alec's to any up and coming young jerk.

Denny Melia does not leave the guidance office to David Boudreau.

Alfred Thompson leaves his ambition to Scott Briggs.

Judy Wheeler leaves her "Hot Lips" to Gordon Sears.

Alan Mason leaves his season ticket to the rostrum for 10 minute talks to all of next years outstanding orators.

Jackie Price leaves her left-over diamond cleaning fluid to Miss Flynn.

Bill Stromquist leaves the memory of his cheerful, agreeable, and cooperative attitude to the faculty.

Russell Pike leaves his rally enthusiasm to George Burdick.

Eileen Cahill leaves her giggles to Brenda Snow.

Robert Carrier leaves his driving skill to Tiny Lusignant.

Charlie Thomson and Shirley Barrett leave their "his and her" chemistry aprons to one of Mr. Clark's nice young couples in next year's chemistry class.

The senior football players leave their very best wishes to next years team, and to insure success to Coach Bertolini, they leave an extra large horse whip.

The graduating members of the band leave Mr. Lawlor 4 trumpet players, 3 clarinet players, 3 trombone players, one flutist and one big tuba player.

George April leaves his film showing ability to Jackson Bailey.

Gail Corbin leaves her refined ways to Carol Pike.

Donald Steele leaves his quiet manners to Judy Bartlett and Beverly Valley.

Jim Rand does not leave Marianne!

Albert Sears leaves his tuba to Janice Perrochi.

Betty Slaughter leaves her winning ways with the fellas to Elaine and Ellen Kushmarick.

To Mr. Roy we leave a bigger office in anticipation of next year's freshman class.

This year's yearbook staff leaves next year's chosen few, lots of luck and this advice--start Now!

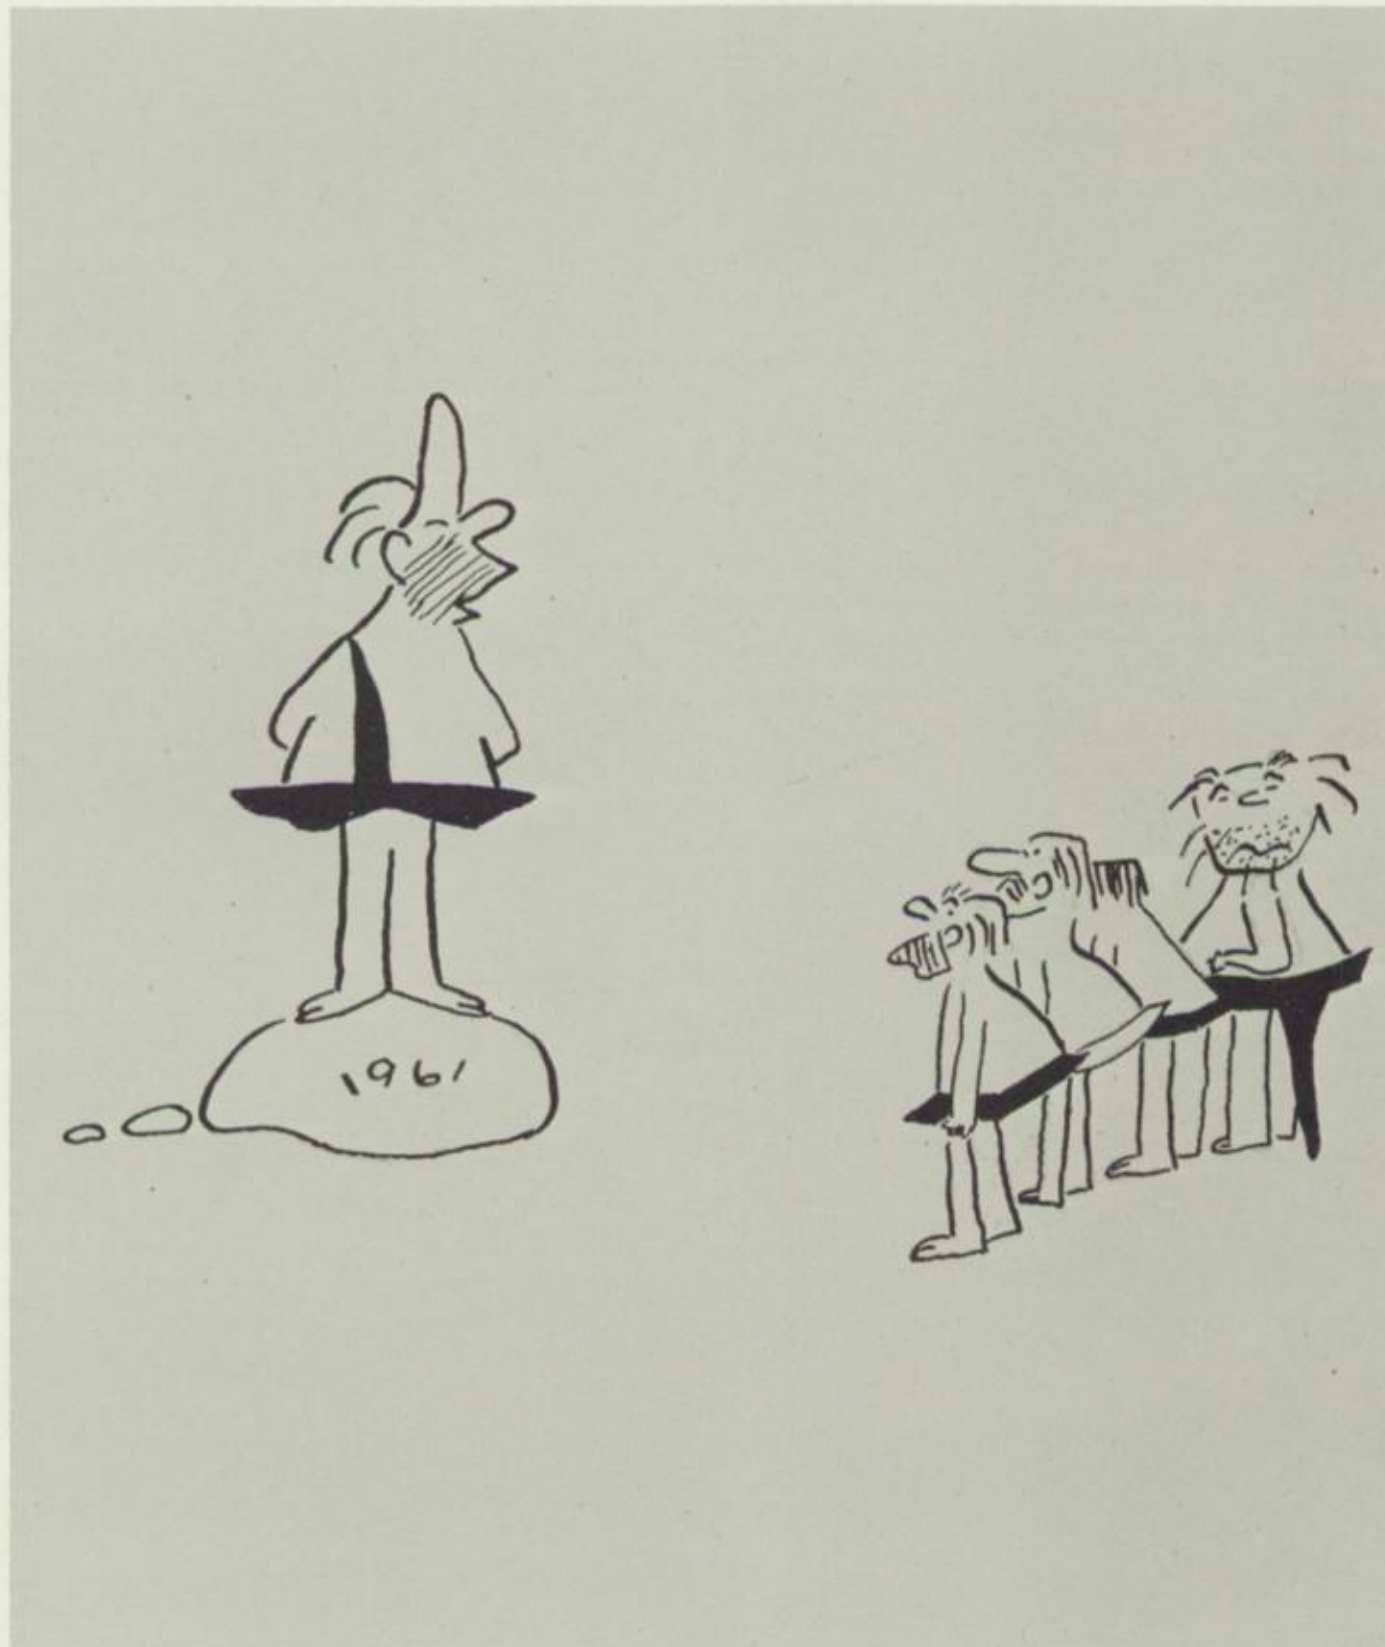

Last, but not least, we the seniors do humbly and appreciatively leave

Class Song

Words and Music by Edgar Des Roches

We the class of six-ty one are ga-thered here today to bid a fond fare-well to those who helped us on our way The memo-ries of our high school days will of-fer great re- lief
As we face the chan-ging world torn with strife and grief And when suc-cess at last is won, this thought will nev-er die,
For our hearts will al-ways be with good old Ames-bury High.

SPORTS

FOOTBALL

This years football season was not entirely successful with a record of three wins and six losses. Amesbury went back to the single wing when Valentino Bertolini took over as head coach in the fall of 1960. He was assisted by Kenneth Hood and Walter Miller.

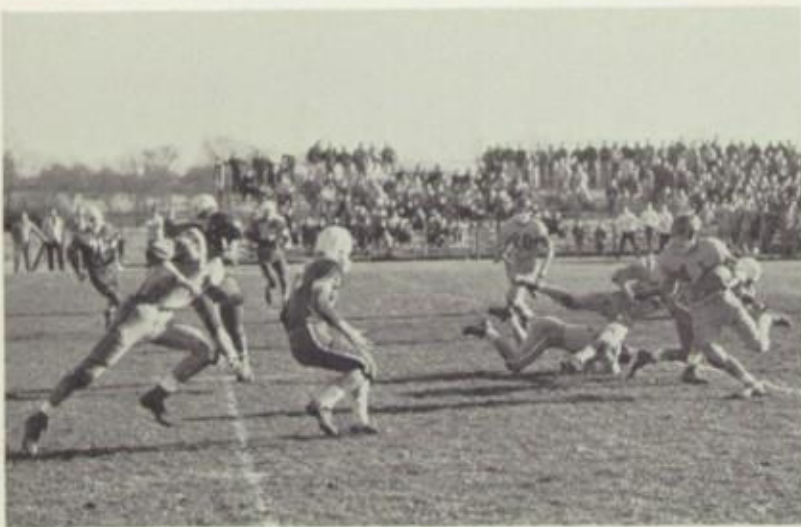

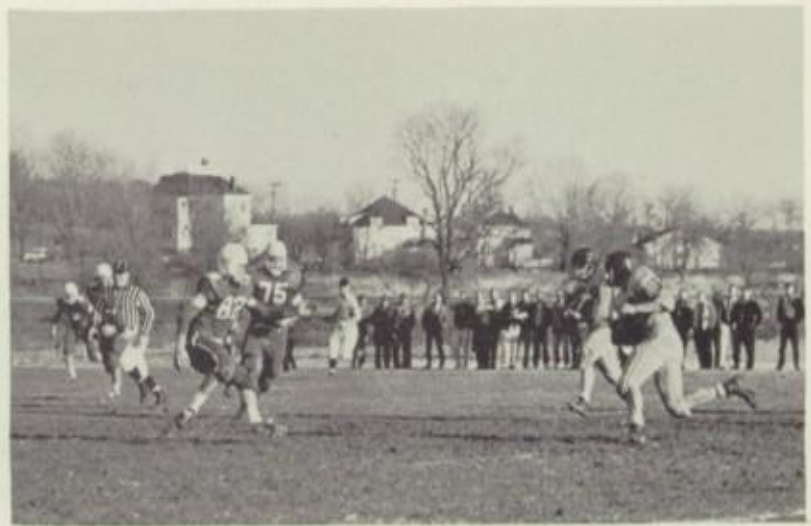

A 40 to 0 loss to Marblehead put the Indians off to a bad start. Amesbury put up a great fight against Winthrop but went down to a 26 to 22 defeat. Amesbury dropped a 28-6 decision to St. John's followed by losses to Portsmouth 14-0, Swampscott 16-8 and Woburn 24-0.

After the bugs had been worked out, Amesbury came back to win the last three games. A 12-0 decision over Andover and a 24-6 decision over Danvers. Amesbury won the traditional "Turkey Day" rivalry with Newburyport by a 32-16 decision.

BASKETBALL

The Amesbury High School basketball team had an unsuccessful season. Several of the games, however, were lost by only a few points. Eighteen games were played, Amesbury won four and lost fourteen.

The team was coached by Mr. Kenneth Hood and captained by Dick Mansourian.

HOCKEY

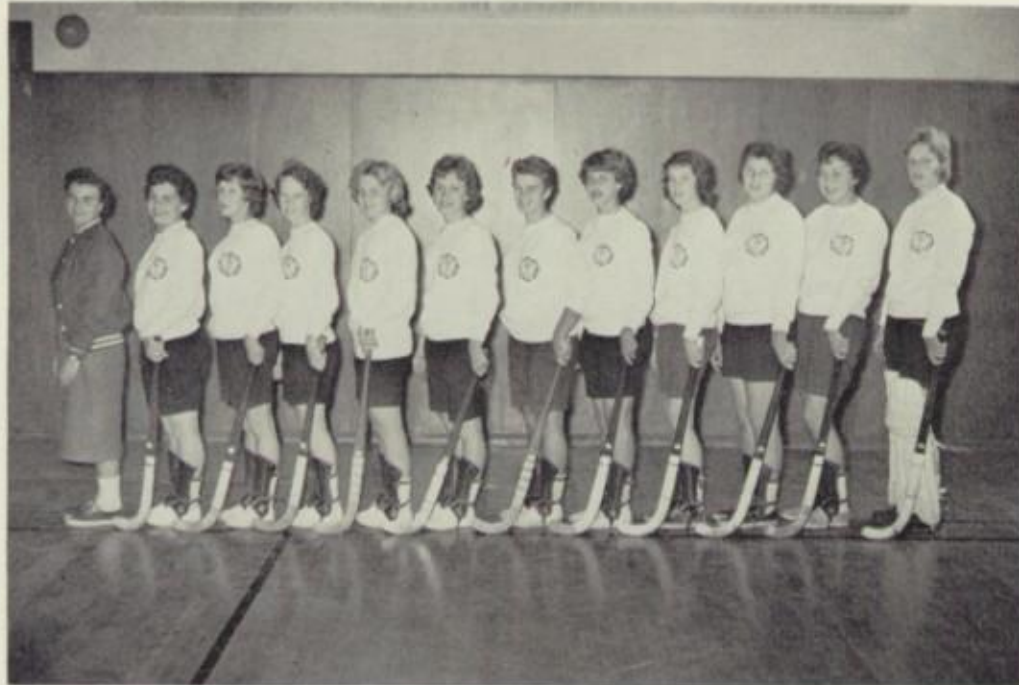

The Amesbury Hockey team closed this season with a very disappointing record of one tie and 14 losses. The team was under the direction of Mr. Kevin McCarthy.

The team opened its season in a thriller with Saugus which ended in a one to one tie. Amesbury lost the Lynn English by one goal 3-2. This loss was followed by losses to St. Mary's, Swampscott, Salem, Marblehead, Gloucester, Beverly, Exeter Academy, Woburn, Lynn Classical, Peabody, St. John's, Malden and Danvers. Amesbury fought with equal vigor throughout the season only to succumb to stronger opponents.

This is the team's second undefeated year and none of the opponents were able to score a goal. The captain for the team this season was Eva Morin. Awards for outstanding players were given to Eva Morin-high scorer, Marilyn Shaw-sportsmanship, Cheryl Briggs and Martha Merrill-most valuable players.

The Junior Varsity remained undefeated. The captain was Kathy Quinn.

BASEBALL

Amesbury High's baseball team had a very disappointing year with three wins and ten losses. The Indians went down to a 6-1 defeat to Andover which started them off to a bad start. This defeat was followed by defeats by Woburn 11-0, Winthrop 10-8, Marblehead 8-6, Danvers 10-0, Newburyport 4-2, and Swampscott 5-1. They came back to win a 5-4 decision against Andover which was followed by a defeat of 9-2 by Winthrop. They then defeated Marblehead 5-3. Danvers came out the victor in the next game by defeating Amesbury 14-5. Amesbury then defeated Woburn 5-4 but lost their last game 9-4 to Newburyport.

TRACK

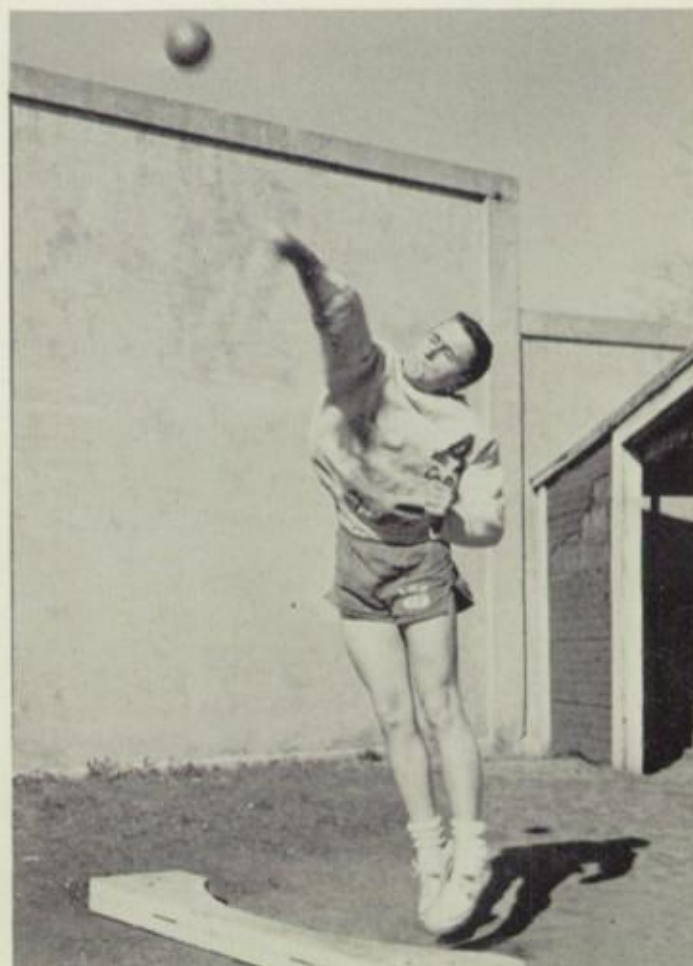

The Amesbury High School Track Team again came through in victory, winning six of its seven dual meets and tying the seventh with a strong Andover team to become Co-champions and remain undefeated in dual meet competition for five straight years. Although the team lacked the necessary strength in the dashes to win the Conference Meet it showed a very respectable third against winning Andover and second-place Winthrop. The great weakness in the dashes proved to be Amesbury's downfall at St. John's and the State Meet, dropping from third to eighth at St. John's and from second to ninth in the State. The mile record was broken this year by a first year man on the team. The other records broken were the broad jump and the discus. The mile and broad jump records were broken at the State Meet.

Jackets were given to the lettermen at the banquet and next year's captain, Bob Andrews, was elected.

The team was coached by Mrs. Chase with Miss Somensini assisting. Acting as Co-captains for the season were Judy Smith and Irene Lahait. Those who received the awards were Annie Dalmolen-high scorer, Dianne Labbe-most improved, Shirley Barrett-sportsmanship, and Irene Lahait-most valuable player for the second year in a row.

The Junior Varsity remained undefeated for its second year. Sharon Smart was captain and received most valuable player award. Other awards went to Cheryl Briggs-high scorer, Jill Healey and Chris Daggel-most improved.
